Child Care Loan Sources for Startups/Expansions

LOCAL

Local Financial Institutions

In most cases a private financial institution will need to provide a portion of the needed financing for building, equipment and working capital. Many of the other programs highlighted below are for gap financing that help make a project an acceptable risk for a bank to move forward with a business loan, and to make it more affordable to the business.

(Under Federal programs below see SBA Program Lenders. These institutions participate in Small Business Administration loan programs. This does not rule out other financial institutions that provide loans without SBA involvement.)

Southwest Initiative Foundation

Since its inception in 1986, the Southwest Initiative Foundation (SWIF) has supported the retention, expansion, transition, creation, and attraction of businesses in the 18-county region through creative and flexible business financing solutions. SWIF partners with banks and credit unions, economic development organizations, nonprofit lenders and private investors. In addition, as a US Small Business Administration Microlender and a US Department of Agriculture Rural Microentrepreneur Assistance Program lender, SWIF provides customized technical assistance for the length of the loan to help clients improve their skills in financial management, operations, marketing, and more.

A special interest of SWIF is the creation and expansion of child care enterprises. SWIF’s Bright Beginnings Loan Program provides technical assistance and affordable capital for child care entrepreneurs.

Mid-Minnesota Development Commission’s Revolving Loan Fund Program

The Mid-Minnesota Development Commission (MMDC) maintains a Revolving Loan Fund (RLF). Primary funding of the RLF came in part from a grant from the U.S. Department of Commerce/Economic Development Administration (EDA). The EDA maintains quasi-ownership of the funds.

RLF funding of loans is used primarily for job creation and retention of jobs. Also, the RLF cannot be a substitute for private sector financing. Another primary use of RLF Funds is to leverage private sector investment or funding from a financial institution. The RLF can only fund projects in Kandiyohi, McLeod, Meeker, and Renville Counties.

The uses of RLF funds includes real estate purchase, equipment purchase, business expansion, and working capital.

The amount of dollars used per job created or retained is $15,000.00. Loan applications will be accepted asking for an amount between $30,000 and $100,000. If you are interested in possible loan assistance, please contact MMDC’s Economic Development Director at 320-235-8504.

Minnesota Department of Employment & Economic Development (DEED)

DEED's business development funding programs are targeted toward projects that are likely to result in economic growth. Their goal is to help stimulate new business development and business expansions while retaining existing jobs and creating new jobs.

Minnesota DEED also provides information and guidance for those starting a business. See more information under the Assistance with Business Planning and General Assistance section below.

Many of DEED's business financing programs are aimed at businesses that are engaged in manufacturing, warehousing, distribution, technology-and related industries. They do, however, offer a couple of programs that some child care businesses may be interested in.

Emerging Entrepreneur Loan Program

The Emerging Entrepreneur Loan Program (ELP) supports the growth of businesses owned and operated by minorities, low-income persons, women, veterans, and/or persons with disabilities. The program has additional goals of providing jobs for minority and/or low-income persons, creating and strengthening minority business enterprises, and promoting economic development in low-income areas.

Businesses must apply directly with a certified lender, although DEED may be able to assist in identifying an appropriate lender. Once the lender approves the loan, they will forward the loan package to DEED for approval by the commissioner and disbursement of funds for the project.

FOUNDATIONS AND OTHER SOURCES OF FUNDING

Some philanthropic organizations and foundations offer grants to certain types of businesses. To find such organizations, search the Foundation Center which connects nearly 600 foundations nationally with nonprofit organizations. Please note that most foundations primarily give funding to non-profit organizations, not to individuals.

The Willmar Area Community Foundation has a searchable database computer program on foundations. Please contact them if you are interested in setting up an appointment to be able to utilize this tool. The Willmar Area Community Foundation is located at 1601 East Highway 12, Suite 9, Willmar, MN 56201. Their telephone number is 320-235-4380 or contact Executive Director Sara Carlson at scarlson@communitygiving.org.

Start looking for possible foundations that are located within the state and show an interest in terms like “early childhood development,” “child education,” “child nutrition,” “child welfare, or similar search words and phrases. Look for foundations that fund on a statewide or national level, as many foundations only provide funding to their geographic location.

The Otto Bremer Foundation, headquartered in Minnesota, is one example of a state foundation that has shown funding support for construction and renovation of child care centers.

KaBOOM Grant Programs

KaBOOM is a national non-profit that has grant programs for building playgrounds. The organization is “dedicated to bringing balanced and active play into the daily lives of all kids, particularly those growing up in poverty in America.” KaBOOM has several types of grant programs currently available: Build it with KaBOOM, Build It Yourself, Creative Play grants, and Let’s Play Dream Playground video contest. KaBOOM’s website also has information and links to other related grant programs not highlighted in this report.

Crowdfunding

The idea of crowdfunding, also known as crowd financing or crowd-sourced capital, is appealing to some entrepreneurs. The concept is simple enough: Get lots of people to make small investments in your big idea. The reality is more complicated than can be covered in this document. Crowdfunding comes with its own unique regulations, difficulties and obligations and may not be suited to your business.

INFORMATION YOU NEED TO CONSIDER WHEN YOU START A BUSINESS

SBA's 10 steps to open a business

Starting a business involves planning, making key financial decisions, and completing a series of legal activities.

Conduct market research
Market research will tell you if there’s an opportunity to turn your idea into a successful business. It’s a way to gather information about potential customers and businesses already operating in your area. Use that information to find a competitive advantage for your business.

Write a Business Plan
Your business plan is the foundation of your business. It’s a roadmap for how to structure, run, and grow your new business. You’ll use it to convince people that working with you — or investing in your company — is a smart choice.

Fund your business
Your business plan will help you figure out how much money you’ll need to start your business. If you don’t have that amount on hand, you’ll need to either raise or borrow the capital. Fortunately, there are more ways than ever to find the capital you need.

Pick your business location
Your business location is one of the most important decisions you’ll make. Whether you’re setting up a brick-and-mortar business or launching an online store, the choices you make could affect your taxes, legal requirements, and revenue.

Choose a business structure
The legal structure you choose for your business will impact your business registration requirements, how much you pay in taxes, and your personal liability.

Choose your business name
It’s not easy to pick the perfect name. You’ll want one that reflects your brand and captures your spirit. You’ll also want to make sure your business name isn’t already being used by someone else.

Register your business
Once you’ve picked the perfect business name, it’s time to make it legal and protect your brand. If you’re doing business under a name different than your own, you’ll need to register with the federal government, and maybe your state government, too.

Get federal and state tax IDs
You’ll use your employer identification number (EIN) for important steps to start and grow your business, like opening a bank account and paying taxes. It’s like a social security number for your business. Some — but not all — states require you to get a tax ID as well.

Apply for licenses and permits
Keep your business running smoothly by staying legally compliant. The licenses and permits you need for your business will vary by industry, state, location, and other factors.

Open a business bank account
A small business checking account can help you handle legal, tax, and day-to-day issues. The good news is it’s easy to set one up if you have the right registrations and paperwork ready.
